INTERNATIONAL ARCH — Two giant arch sections, stretching from the Canadian and United States shores, are expected to meet about 350 feet above the lower Niagara River within 10 days. When they touch, builders believe they will set a record for the world's longest hingeless steel arch. The $17,000,000 bridge, stretching 1,000 feet between abutments at Queenston, Ont., and Lewiston, N.Y., will replace the 69-year-old suspension bridge in background.

Senate Opens Censor Probe

Cites Data Withheld By Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators, opening their investigation into charges the Pentagon muzzles anti-Communist speeches by military officers, disclosed today they have obtained evidence Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara declined to give them.

The evidence: the identity of censors who blue-penciled specific speeches.

The disclosure came as the special Senate Armed Services subcommittee called Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, as leadoff witness in what could be long and stormy hearings.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a subcommittee member and the man whose accusations set off the inquiry, confirmed that the subcommittee had the evidence.

McNamara had declined publicly to tell which Defense Department censors made changes in the prepared texts of military men's speeches. He based his refusal on a contention that as Pentagon chief he alone should bear the responsibility.

McNamara did provide a list of the names of 14 censors, without disclosing which had handled specific speeches. Thurmond said subcommittee investigators had obtained that information by checking with the censors themselves.

Thurmond said it seems "they were merely carrying out orders." Thurmond set off the investigation with a series of Senate talks charging that anti-Communist phrases had been stricken from many speeches by censors.

Thurmond told a reporter in advance of the hearings: "I think the President should have taken action before now to stop this muzzling. I don't mean just the Kennedy administration — this practice goes back through several administrations. But this (censoring) has been stepped up in this administration."

McNamara maintains there has been no muzzling and that the editing of prepared speeches of military men was designed to keep their public views in line with national policy.

Tractor-Trailer Crashes Into Rock

No one was hurt but considerable property damage resulted from three traffic mishaps investigated Monday by the Lisbon Baracks of the State Highway Patrol.

A tractor-trailer received extensive damage when it crashed into a large rock which had slid down an embankment onto Rt. 7, about a mile west of East Liverpool. Driver of the truck was Albert G. Anderson, 43, of Steubenville. The accident occurred at 8:25 p.m.

Glenn Akenhead, 48, of RD 1, New Waterford, was cited for driving left of center following a one-car mishap on Rt. 14, about two miles west of Unity, at 11 p.m.

The Patrol said Akenhead drove off the left side of the road, through the lawn of Hazel Davis of RD 1, New Waterford, and struck a tree.

Cars operated by Gary T. Weekley, 23, of East Liverpool, and Thomas P. Price, 53, of Wells-ville, sideswiped on Rt. 170 near Calcutta at 4 p.m.

Price was arrested for passing over the yellow line. The Patrol said Price attempted to pass Weekley who was making a left turn.

Glenn Won 'Wings' As Civilian Pilot In New Philly In '41

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

NEW PHILADELPHIA — The man handling the faded Manila folder, containing a thin sheaf of papers, did so with considerable care.

It was almost as if he thought the folder and its contents belonged in the Smithsonian Institution.

And I think maybe it does. The papers make up the complete flight record file of Astronaut John Glenn from April 14, 1941, when he took his first flying lesson, to July 1, 1941, the day he got his private pilot's license.

AND IF JOHN'S orbital flight around the earth is completed without a hitch, certainly much of his personal history will be preserved for posterity, in one form or another, in the Smithsonian Institution in the nation's capital.

Harry Clever, manager of the New Philadelphia Airport and the man who gave Astronaut Glenn his first seven flying lessons, says John's flight record exists today because of fate and an efficient former secretary.

Mr. Clever, who still does occasional commercial flying, said he doesn't know why the thousands of old Civilian Pilot Training Program records weren't destroyed long ago.

"THESE OLD FILES, which I just happened to keep, were stored in cartons down in the basement in the boiler room," he explained. "I wouldn't have known where to begin to look for John's record," he said.

It was Miss Jeanette Jenkins, an employee in the Timken Roller Bearing Co. office here, who dug up the flight record. Miss Jenkins was in charge of the CPT office at the airport 20 years ago.

WHAT DOES his first flight record reveal about John Glenn, then just 19 years old?

It shows that his ground school work at Muskingum College in New Concord was, in Harry Clever's words, "darn good — above average." John scored "A" in all three subjects: meteorology, 88; navigation, 88; civil air regulations, 90.

His grades in flying also were above average. He scored 2s and 3s when 4 was average.

Mr. Clever, who issued the private pilot's license to John, recalls that as a pupil John was "eager to learn, relaxed, alert and had good coordination."

ANOTHER of John's early instructors, Wallace Spotts, who resides near Reedsburg in Ashland County, described the future astronaut as "apt and conscientious."

Mr. Spotts, who is a service representative with North American Van Lines in Wooster, recalls that young Glenn was "an exceptional student and very sincere."

He told me he had been impressed by John's attitude as a student.

"It was very good," he said, "and showed evidence of considerable parental influence for the good. He knew how to take hold of things and do them."

I ASKED Mr. Spotts if he recalled anything special happening while they were in the air together during those early flights.

"Only that John always was very calm," the former instructor replied. "He was not a bit more excited the day he soloed than he was the day before."

"I think it's very important that you point out that about 90 per cent of the credit for what John has become is due to John, himself, and about 10 per cent to those of us who worked with him," Mr. Spotts emphasized.

MR. CLEVER, was was the designated flight examiner, gave John his private pilot flight test and was with him on his graduation flight.

Because John was one of the boys authorized to drive the New Philadelphia Airport's station wagon, which transported the future fliers from the Muskingum campus to the airfield, Mr. Clever got to know him better than most of the other students.

The New Philadelphia Airport had the only CAA-approved flying school nearer to New Concord than Columbus and that's why he would-be eagles learned to fly there.

RECALLING that "Glenn was one of the more promising fellows," the airport manager said John kept on coming to New Philadelphia after he completed

Lisbon Police, Fire Phones To Be Moved

LISBON — Village Council Monday night authorized the installation of the village's fire and police call telephones at the all-night Shell Service Station on W. Lincoln Way by Feb. 1.

Formerly located at the sheriff's office for the past three years, the phones will be removed because of an ordered cutback in the sheriff's department finances, necessitating a curtailment of services.

Council asked Mayor Dean Stockman to contact the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to effect the phone transfer to the service station. The rental cost to the village will be $4 a month.

James Scanlon of Leetonia, an ambulance service operator, attended the meeting to propose garaging an ambulance in the village if he can secure someone to operate it on a 24-hour basis.

Deadlock Seen In Policy On Castro Regime

Larger Nations Advocate Soft Problem Approach

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay, (AP)—The United States fought an uphill battle today in an effort to convince its big Latin-American allies to close ranks against the threat of Castro communism and give the Alliance for Progress program a chance to cure the hemisphere's dangerous economic ills.

President Kennedy's team faced an array of conflicting fears and aspirations that produced at least a temporary deadlock on what to do about Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime. The United States apparently abandoned any hope of unanimity of the 20 nations on strong collective anti-Castro punishment and sought to salvage at least a forthright majority condemnation of the Cuban Communist regime.

The deadlock involved sharp differences of approach between big Latin-American nations advocating a soft policy toward Cuba and smaller ones feeling Castro pressure acutely and anxious for quick, positive action.

The impasse plunged the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States into complex quarrels that clearly threatened hemispheric unity. However, hopes were expressed that the broad differences of opinion would be glossed over by some compromise formula.

At Brazil's urging, today's formal sessions were pushed back until 8 p.m. to permit another round of hotel room bargaining. The Brazilian and Argentine delegations arranged a number of sessions in the hope a steady exchange of ideas would bring a meeting of minds, particularly with the smaller nations urging strong action against Cuba.

As others wrangled, the Cubans

Correct Malfunctioning Oxygen System

Experts Ready Glenn Capsule for Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Space technicians, racing a new deadline, worked today to assure astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. a foolproof oxygen supply when he vaults into orbit.

As they replaced two key parts in the oxygen system, an apparently unruffled Glenn paced his own preparations for his rocket ride about the earth now planned, hopefully, for Saturday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said late Monday the fourth postponement of this first orbital flight by an American was caused by trouble in the all-important oxygen system in the 4,000-pound spacecraft.

The technicians, working on the capsule atop a mighty silver Atlas rocket, were installing a new hose and a new device which regulates the oxygen flow into the astronaut's helmet.

NASA officials declined to say how long it would take to repair the oxygen system. After that job is done, the technicians must make painstaking checks to be certain the trouble has been licked.

NASA spokesmen refused to speculate how much more of a delay would be required if the shot cannot meet its Saturday target date.

Glenn, 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel, altered his preflight routine in one way—he temporarily abandoned a low-waste diet to which he shifted on Sunday in anticipation of a takeoff Wednesday morning.

His day Monday was a full one.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Questions And Answers

Q—My daughter had a plantar wart removed from the ball of her foot several months ago, and the incision has not healed yet. The podiatrist to whom I take her says this is a sinus condition and that it, and the new warts that are forming all around, are due to a virus infection for which he has advised us to treat her with large doses of vitamin A.

Can you tell me more about this condition? Is it very contagious? Will my other children catch it?

A—Dear mother, how have you managed to collect so much misinformation in so short a time? In the first place, despite my high regard for the profession of podiatry, your particular podiatrist ought to know that he is neither trained nor licensed to deal with infections or to prescribe medication.

Hence, if he thinks your daughter has an infection or requires vitamins, it is his obligation to refer you to your doctor for the latter's more informed judgment in the matter.

Now as to the warts. It is true that warts can be produced by inoculations with viruses. But also the wart, which is merely a skin reaction in which the cells heap up in a bunch, can be caused by almost any other skin irritant, no one of which is a result of a deficiency of any vitamin, no one of which could or would respond to doses of vitamins whether pure A or the rest of the alphabet.

Not having seen your daughter's plantar wart, I should not perhaps venture a suggestion as to its causation. Or its persistence. But from my general knowledge of the foot habits of the current crop of youngsters, I'd advance the theory that it's just possibly the result of faulty hygiene.

By which I mean sloppy shoes, sloppy socks and stockings and sloppy walking habits.

If you feel your daughter's foot, you might find that the wart is situated on that portion of the transverse arch that should be turned up instead of being turned down. That is to say instead of being an arch, it's turned down like a capital U.

And if that's so, you might also find that her sweaty socks or stockings tend to bunch up at the bottom of the U. And that where they bunch up, the shoe lining has become roughened if not torn through.

There are two suggestions I have for you, if the facts you uncover support my theory. So as not to offend your podiatrist, you might try rubbing vitamin A on the socks and shoe linings. Then, if that doesn't work, maybe you'd better consult your doctor or preferably an orthopedist to see what can be done to treat the CAUSE before your daughter gets herself in increasing difficulties.

Q—I have an enlarged thyroid. Can its growth be arrested?

A—If you have a simple thyroid enlargement and your doctor finds no evidence of any complicating circumstance, you may prevent further enlargement and perhaps even accomplish some shrinkage of the goiter by use of small doses of iodine. Indeed, as little as the amount contained in iodized table salt.

Q—My father says it's a bad thing to wear rubbers or rubber-soled shoes as they insulate a person from the magnetism of the earth. He also says for the same reason it's unhealthy for a person to sleep on a foam rubber mattress. Is this true?

A—Just goes to show that even a father can be wrong.

Blessed Is the Peacemaking

In the natural order of things, there was gnashing of teeth because President Kennedy and the acting secretary-general of the United Nations, U Thant, talked together at length as luncheon guests of Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. Their critics were displeased.

It is in the natural order of things that many Americans loathe the idea of their government's using the United Nations as part of its own foreign policy apparatus. Those who kept their feelings in check when the United Nations was little more than a high-sounding phrase now are dead set against it and its works.

They were not jubilant when Dag Hammarskjold was killed in the plane crash in Africa last September, but they were relieved. They had been more than halfway supporting a Russian drive to get rid of Hammarskjold, and his accidental death seemed like a stroke of luck.

They saw in it a chance to discredit the United Nations, the real object of their animosity. They had nothing against Hammarskjold personally. As to the United Nations, the people who always had mistrusted it had begun to realize that in the Congo it had come to an important crossroads.

Hammarskjold himself had made them aware of this by going to the mat over the issue of intervening with force to thwart Russia's campaign to take over the Congo while its affairs were in turmoil. It was his judgment that secessionist Katanga Province had to be brought back into the Congo Republic to keep Russia at bay, because otherwise a union divided against itself would fall, just as Abraham Lincoln said it would.

This judgment ran contrary to the desires of people in Belgium, France, Britain and the United States who insisted that Katanga was anti-Communist and the central Congolese government was Communist. They wanted the Republic of Congo to fail. Their difference of viewpoints gave rise to a showdown over the United Nations.

The outcome of the showdown is still problematic. But the Congo showdown has cooled down as information replaced ignorance. And the fact is that U Thant as the successor to Dag Hammarskjold is beginning to earn the confidence of the governments for whom he fills the role of official international peacemaker.

His next assignment may be the Dutch-Indonesian dispute. The Congo dispute continues. Peacemakers come and go, but peacemaking goes on forever, to the consternation and alarm of all who prefer ultimatums.

Big Show Opens This Week

"I shall be fair, factual, but unrelenting. I hope every American will follow these hearings with interest and objectivity," declared Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., at the conclusion of a series of articles in which he had outlined his conviction there is some connection between military censorship in the Pentagon and the decision of the 1960 Communist Party Congress to take counter-measures against anti-Communist activities in the United States.

He was referring to Senate Armed Services subcommittee hearings starting today.

Sen. Thurmond, a major general in the Army reserve, has been breathing fire for months about this matter. His interest was ignited by the incident in which Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was rebuked and removed from command of the 24th Army Division in Europe last April on charges he had engaged in partisan political activity.

Gen. Walker, according to the Army, had used "biased, inflammatory and nonfactual" materials in a recommended reading list for a troop indoctrination program. It was alleged he had tried to influence the voting of troops and their families in the 1960 congressional election.

GEN. WALKER was accused of violating a military parallel of the Hatch Act, which forbids public officials to use their influence in popular elections and reported as using Art. 31 of the Military Code—military equivalent of the Fifth Amendment.

Our couriers, the mailmen, seem to make their appointed rounds, no matter what type of weather, but a little assistance from the public in keeping sidewalks free of ice and snow could make their job a bit easier.

A slippery walk has sent one letter carrier to the hospital with a broken leg, as Acting Postmaster Ray Reasbeck has pointed out, and his appeal for residents to keep their sidewalks clean isn't asking too much. Next time you query, "hasn't the mail come yet?", you'd better check your own path. Your newsboy will appreciate your courtesy, too.

Year 'round, the mailman runs the gamut of hazards. In the wintertime it's frost-bitten ears and hands, not to mention possible injury from falls. In the summertime he fights off neighborhood dogs and worries about heat prostration.

He deserves a medal.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Bank robbers are becoming almost as numerous as depositors. Nobody can be sure whether a visitor is approaching with bank-book or a note. Open-faced glass-front bank in heart of New York was held up despite fact this Jesse James was giving performance in full view of crowds. Nobody noticed him.

Stickup men are getting extra bold and may be unhappy that so little attention is paid to them. They don't want attention so fast but think they are entitled to morning-after reviews by critics.

We can imagine bandits entertaining selves with imaginary quotes such as "Most Stirring Robbery of Season," "Bank Heist a Thriller," "Bandit Gives Flawless Performance," "Holdup, A Hit," etc. Way the bandits get away with it is amazing, especially in full stage setting and under floodlights. They all are the same note and are there to draw out more money than most depositors.

Jeff Bludsoe, terror of the Old West, found it much harder to rob banks. "Everybody seemed to notice a bandit at work. And we realized we had to be careful about spectators and bright lights," he said. "We had to work in groups."

Today, they work alone and almost always carry an announcer and press agent. Of course in the old days banks looked tougher. No music, no dancing, no floor shows. Just well fortified money.

"No Kidding---It's on the Green"

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH If you're in an Alice in Wonderland mood and want to tumble down a big hole into the strontium-less world of tomorrow you need not involve some magic rabbit.

Just drive up to Boyers, Pa., and its old limestone pit. You needn't tumble either, you glide gently down some 220 feet to a four-room air-conditioned apartment. Right smack in the center of the old shaft is the drawing room, bath—with shower—for the executives or labor leaders or the still unknown standby government officials of D-Day. It must never come.

This is the first of tomorrow's underground apartments. It is the sanctuary for the managerial, labor and government leaders and their families—if "The Attack" heat blisters our land.

IT IS CARVED out of only one of hundreds of caves and mountains and ancient mines. Talk with experts of the National Storage Co. headquartered in this steel city and you know that Alice really had no wonderland.

You learn of what someday may be moon living. Of underground chicken farms and tiny cattle "ranges" deep under the earth. Of assembly lines and huge doors dwarfing those which look in even Fort Knox.

Up at Boyers, you don't know you're driving over moon-living quarters. The old U.S. Steel Andon-dale limestone mine now holds the records of banks, insurance companies, savings and loan associations, industrial firms—records of skilled management and labor people—and the vital knowledge of three federal agencies.

There's a boom in Boyers. Some 107 men work the vast atomic shelter. They guard, they file, they store, they search swiftly for records and information needed quickly by client companies.

THEY SERVICE the underground apartment which will be the model for scores of other suites under the company's 80 acres of that limestone strata that stretches down from Canada through New York and into Pennsylvania.

National Storage Co. is one of a score of cave dwelling specialists housing thousands of companies' standby records.

Recently on my way down from Albany, N. Y., I ran across the Iron Mountain Atomic Storage Co.—some eight miles south of Hudson, N. Y.

The mountain is hollowed out. Into its vast emptiness have been stored the records of 3,000 firms—some 100 banks, 75 insurance companies, 50 Wall Street brokerage firms, and even overseas out-fits.

But it will take living things to ride out an atomic hailstorm. People, chickens, cattle. Over in the Carey Salt Mines in Lyons, Kan., the Armour Meat Co. is experimenting with raising cattle underground. This fascinates the Pentagon.

Down in Manheim, W. Va., the Fawcett Co., has been raising 400 chickens down in the pit every six weeks. Good fowl, too. I may be tipping the Russians but the company is getting chickens four ounces heavier underground than topside.

IF CHICKS PROSPER, girls do too, underground. In Atchison, Kan., the Pentagon's Quartermaster Division has a C-ration assembly line. Some 300 women wrap the stuff every day.

Until the trip here I had no idea how fast we were going underground in these United States. I heard of one firm in Los Angeles, known as the Bekins Business Records Center, which has 50 underground units in 13 states spanning the entire West Coast and western half of the land.

While everybody's arguing about shelters, the mine and cave business is the most active on the fallout front. It is coordinated wherever possible in the Pentagon's Industry office. This division has units ranging from Denton, Tex., to Harvard, Mass.—which is a Boston suburb and not a university, no matter what you hear from Washington. Do not confuse it with that White House suburb known as Cambridge.

This recounting of this latest trip of mine is offered in the hope that never will we need to retreat to the caves. And that historians will look back at them as museum pieces of a maladjusted age.

JFK's Popularity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Most Citizens Give President 'A' for Effort

The latest Gallup Poll is the talk of the town. It isn't merely because the rating at the end of the first 12 months is higher for President Kennedy than it was for the last three presidents after their first year but because of a peculiar emergence of what was referred to as a religious factor in the last campaign.

For the poll shows that 88 per cent of the Catholics manifested approval as contrasted with 73 per cent of the Protestants.

Just why Catholics should differ from Protestants in their appraisal after the first year of a president who happens to be a Catholic is not explained, especially since it has been taken for granted recently in political circles that Mr. Kennedy had alienated many of his supporters among Catholics because of his adamant opposition to federal aid to private or parochial schools.

Perhaps the key is to be found in a natural pride among Catholics that President Kennedy has shown himself to be a man of sincerity and earnest application to duty and indeed this is doubtless one reason why among all voters he has attained a high rating in the Gallup Poll.

Thus, for instance, the poll shows that while 87 per cent of the Democrats expressed a favorable opinion of Mr. Kennedy, as many as 58 per cent of the Republicans and 75 per cent of the Independents did likewise.

The question posed in the poll was: "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Kennedy is handling his job as president?" Many people who would say "yes" in answer might say the opposite if asked specifically whether in an election held right now they would cast their ballot for him.

There's quite a difference between applauding a man's conscientious effort to perform the duties of the presidential office and passing judgment on the specific steps a president has taken in domestic and international policy.

On the whole, as the citizen answers the Gallup Poll's question, he would be likely to give Mr. Kennedy an "A" for effort. The "way he has handled his job" could mean the image that the public has obtained of an earnest young man, anxious to learn while beset with a multitude of nerve-racking problems.

INTERNATIONALLY speaking, for example, Mr. Kennedy has certainly maintained the basic principles of American foreign policy, though it remains to be seen how he will eventually deal with the Cuban problem.

On domestic issues, Mr. Kennedy has hardly had a chance yet to mark out his course. Many of the recommendations he has made are subject to criticism but the public generally is not aware of the pitfalls of his economic policies. They will be only if such policies bring on another recession and more unemployment.

Businessmen who know from experience the consequences that may flow from some of the unsound theories which Mr. Kennedy with the best of intentions has accepted from the hands of his advisers would rather wait a year or more before coming to conclusions about the Kennedy administration.

They still can't believe he will swallow the economic fallacies that characterized the New Deal's 7-year failure to "prime the pump" in the biggest depression in our history.

But, for all practical purposes, the Gallup Poll seems an accurate measure of the trend of public opinion as a whole.

The favorable image which the country has of President Kennedy is largely due to one of the most powerful and comprehensive publicity campaigns ever undertaken by an American president. Not even Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who were masters of the ways of getting publicity, can compare with him for Mr. Kennedy has a politician's conviction that a favorable press is nine-tenths of the battle for votes.

It should not for a moment be inferred from this that the press is slanted in its news reports. On the contrary, these have been as objective as could be desired. But the difference from the preceding administration is that Mr. Kennedy makes news that has to be reported — and so does his energetic wife. Youth is a novelty in the White House, and that in itself makes news.

Every time such innovations as water skiing or horseback riding are introduced or a new emphasis is given to arts and music, it makes news for the women's pages.

THE PRESIDENT is a keen student of publicity. He doesn't ask anyone to commend him but merely to give his side a fair presentation.

This is all that's really necessary, especially when the opposition is so weak, disorganized and unperceptive that it doesn't make enough news to offset the administration's efforts.

Granting that a favorable image of President Kennedy has been produced by the barrage of publicity

he has gotten in his first year,

it also can be traced to his policy of caution in international affairs —

the branch of his job which has had much of the lime-light in the last 12 months.

The time to judge a president is at the end of his term and not at the end of his first year. This writer recalls how William Howard

Taft was inaugurated in March 1909 after receiving the second largest electoral vote ever given a president up to that time, and enjoyed popularity during his first year. In fact, he was a likeable personality anyway, but at the end of four years his party had split apart on economic issues, and his faction got only eight votes in the Electoral College in his bid for reelection.

It's more important always to know what the employment and economic condition of the country will be when a presidential election rolls around. That's usually the key issue and it had more to do with Nixon's defeat than is generally accepted by political observers.

Our Readers

In Salem's Favor

We hear so much complaining about what is wrong with Salem that it seems that, for a change, we should see what's good.

For instance, how many people know that on a per capita basis, Salem has the lowest rate of juvenile delinquency in Ohio, putting Salem's average below that of the county, state and nation.

I contend that this favorable condition is due to giving our youngsters something to do. When they are small they get the Children's Story hour at the Public Library. We have voted money for parks and now have playgrounds and baseball fields in all parts of the city. The American Legion backs the Little League baseball program; merchants and industries supply uniforms. The Memorial Building provides basketball, rooms for record hops and meetings. The musicians union and Elks Lodge provide music and lodge room for dancing after the football and basketball games.

Comments City Firemen

It was a week ago Tuesday when we were awakened by cries of help and discovered smoke pouring out of the William Pauline home. I called the fire department and they came faster than I could drive from the station to home in my car.

And as I watched those men stand out in that 18-degree weather and hose water on the fire, I was ashamed of the people of Salem and Council for turning down the raise they asked for, for I know there is not one of us who would have stood in that cold for $100 an hour. They were there four hours and came back and checked every hour after until they were sure the fire was out.

You might say they don't do it very often, but if you had to fill their shoes one minute a year you would think you were underpaid, too. Putting the fire out is only one-tenth of the discomfort and danger involved. How many of you would walk in a house that is burning and unsafe.

Worth the Cost

Dear Ann: Mother and I have been arguing about something since Christmas. Can you settle it?

We live in an apartment building. Mother mailed a Christmas card to each of the tenants. I say she should have dropped the cards in the mailboxes and saved the stamp money. She says that a few people in the building have done this and that it looks cheap. I say the only thing that counts is that the people receive their cards. It doesn't matter if the card comes through the Post Office.

Dear Frugal: If a friend is worth remembering with a card he is worth the 4 cents it takes to send the card through the mail. Save on something else.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am gravely concerned about our 7-year-old son, Gregory.

A few weeks ago our neighbors phoned to report that Gregory had been seen throwing lighted matches at their collie. Gregory denied it and said the big boys were just trying to get him into trouble. I believed him.

This morning I glanced out the window and saw Gregory beating a small kitten with a stick. I rushed out of the house and gave him a severe scolding. He said he was just petting the kitten but I know better.

Gregory is an only child. My husband and I both work but we have a competent housekeeper who has been with us five years. She is strict with Gregory and does a fine job of disciplining him. We are at a loss to understand this sadistic streak. What should be done?—Q.T.

Heavy Snows

other day. The snowfall was Southern California's worst since 1949.

The rainfall in Los Angeles measured 2.35 inches.

Police blamed the weather for two traffic fatalities, one in Los Angeles and one west of Maricopa. Snow marooned 300 cars in Mojave and almost isolated that desert community of 2,500.

Two hundred winter sportsmen caught in a lodge south of Bishop had to bed down on the floor for the night.

The U.S. Forest Service began checking avalanche hazards in Angeles National Forest above Pasadena and warned snow lovers to stay out of the mountains. Even in the San Fernando Valley motorists were skidding about and wondering where tire chains could be had.

Workers in Rosamond, a small Kern County community, couldn't clear snow from streets because heavy drifts buried the town's two snowplows.

Schools closed in Fresno and in some mountain areas near Los Angeles. Main highways from Los Angeles to Bakersfield alternately closed and opened as drifts formed and were plowed away.

Stormy weather also hit sections of the South but unseasonably mild weather prevailed in most of the Southeast.

A broad belt of rain or drizzle, with sleet along the northern edge, spread through most of southern and eastern Texas northeastward to West Virginia and southern Pennsylvania.

Hays Near Scene of Paris Explosion

Congressman Wayne L. Hays, in Paris to attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, was conferring with U.S. Ambassador James Gavin Monday afternoon when a bomb explosion ripped the French foreign ministry building across the street.

Hays, who flew back to the United States late last night, said the explosion across the Place de La Concorde shook the American embassy.

The blast, which killed one and injured 13 Frenchmen, was blamed on extremists who want to keep Algeria French at all costs.

Bulgarian 'Spy' Plane Films Studied

ROME (AP) — NATO experts today were completing development and study of films from the Bulgarian jet that crashed near a secret NATO base in southern Italy. The pictures were expected to prove that the young pilot was on a spy mission.

The Italian Defense Ministry in a communique Monday said a "final judgment on the nature of the episode" could not be given yet. But it said there were "indications of a true and proper case of aerial espionage" which needed only to be "further substantiated."

One high Italian government official went farther.

"We can say now that the mission of the Bulgarian aircraft was unfriendly," he said. "We expect to state flatly in the next few days that the plane was flying a spy mission."

A Defense Ministry source predicted that the Bulgarian pilot, Lt. Milus Solakov, 22, would be put on trial by the Italians for espionage, as American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was by the Russians.

If convicted of espionage, Solakov could get 5 to 15 years in prison. The Russians sentenced Powers to 10 years.

Solakov was held under guard at the civil hospital at Acquafredda. Italian intelligence officers planned to start questioning him after he is transferred to a military hospital in Bari. Doctors said he was recovering from fractures of the left collar bone and left arm and a head concussion, but the fractures were complex and it would be awhile before he could be transferred.

The Defense Ministry communique said Solakov, after he was pulled from the wreckage of his jet Saturday, "said that he escaped from Bulgaria in order to evade the political regime of that country" and "asked to be put into contact with Bulgarian diplomatic authorities in Italy."

An authoritative Foreign Ministry source commented that "the fact that the pilot asked for political asylum does not change the nature of his mission."

The Bulgarian minister in Rome sought an interview with the pilot, but the Italian Foreign Ministry deferred action until after further investigation.

The Bulgarian government claimed the pilot lost his way on a routine training mission.

Summitville

Summitville Village Council met at the Fire Hall Thursday night, with Mayor Ernest Phillips presiding.

Members present were Council President Dominic Sabatino, William Swinger, Raymond Aruffi, Howard Speirs, Dean Dowdell, and Clair Fraser.

Several new ordinances were discussed, all were tabled except one. It will prohibit soliciting in the village.

Mayor Phillips reported meeting with the county commissioners in regard to the widening and resurfacing of Route 644 inside the village. This is a state project begun in 1960, beginning in Salineville and extending to the center of the village of Summitville.

The new work will begin there and finish at Route 30 in Kensington. The commissioners had agreed to help the village pay its share of the expense.

Checks

passed a bad check for $25 Nov. 15 at the Loblaw Market. The charge was filed Dec. 12 by William Good, a store official.

Since that time, police had been on the lookout for Matthews and when they learned yesterday afternoon that he had been spotted in the downtown area he was picked up, Chief Americo J. Radetski said.

After being alerted on the tip from the garage, Officer Smith started on a search for Matthews and found him on foot at E. 6th St. and Broadway, police said.

The plates he had removed from the car were found bent and discarded in Welch alley, officers said.

The Other Day

We got to talking about the invention of the wheel, and how much of civilization, ancient and modern, hinges on its development.

The earliest known wheels were found on the remains of chariots that dated back to 3500 B.C. in Mesopotamia (or inner Asia).

But apparently European civilization did not know of them for another 2500 years. One might say that the wheel marked the beginning of ancient civilization and had untold effect upon all further progress. It appears that the water wheel had its beginning in about 2500 B.C. also in Mesopotamia, which gave man his first physical power greater than his arms and legs.

Our earliest records indicate the first Windmill another derivative of the wheel was invented about 1000 A.D. in Persia, and no drastic improvements in it were made until the beginning of our own century. It seems that virtually all of man's great advances have been made in our own times. Incidentally, our business depends upon providing you with the best possible wheels and then keeping them turning smoothly and economically for you. But here you won't find any "Big Wheels."

... we're just plain folks, eager to serve you faithfully and economically. PARKER CHEVROLET CO. 292 West State St., telephone ED 2-4684.

Robert F. Kennedy Won't Visit Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has declined an informal invitation to visit the Soviet Union next month on his trip around the world. But he says he looks forward to visiting there in the future.

Kennedy issued a statement Monday night following a day of speculation about the meaning of the Soviet invitation.

The brother of President Kennedy said: "I have received an informal invitation to visit the Soviet Union during my currently planned trip."

"My travel plans, however, have been completed for some time and I will not be able to alter them at this time. I will, however, look forward to visiting the Soviet Union in the future."

Neither Kennedy, the Justice Department nor the White House would say who issued the invitation. A Justice Department spokesman said it was received last Thursday.

The decision apparently was reached after discussions among the attorney general, the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The younger Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, will be making good-will visits to Japan, Indonesia, Iran, Germany and the Netherlands, ending about Feb. 26. Last August they made a similar trip to West Africa.

his course, to keep his proficiency up until he went into the Marine Corps.

One bit of information Harry Clever believes John, himself, won't remember is the preferences the young student indicated in a question about aviation career fields.

John designated the airlines as his No. 1 choice for a flying career. The Navy was No. 2 choice, the Army No. 3, flight instructor was No. 4, and other nonscheduled commercial flying was No. 5.

HE HARDLY could have indicated a predilection for space flight at that time without risking considerable derision. After all, 1941 predated the German V bombs.

As I rose to leave at the conclusion of a most enjoyable interview with the man who started John Glenn's wings sprouting, he asked me if I expected to talk with my astronaut friend at Cape Canaveral. I expressed some doubt about this.

"Well, if you do," he said, tell him we're PROUD of him!"

Somehow I felt John would get a real "lift off" from this message.

HURT IN CAGE GAME

James Slaby, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Slaby Sr. of 394 W. 10th St., is in fairly good condition in Salem City Hospital where he was admitted at 8:55 p.m. Monday for treatment of a possible concussion suffered in a fall while playing basketball in the Senior High School gym.

Council declined his offer, saying firemen would continue to answer emergency calls from physicians as in the past.

Leo Lawrence and Jack C. Chapman of East Liverpool, representatives of the Metropolitan Insurance Co., also attended to discuss hospitalization for village employees. Council informed the men that a committee has been named to select insurance for the employees pending further study.

Mayor Stockman reported the village has received permission from the State Highway Department office in Leetonia to place signs on the Rt. 45 and 30 approaches to the village, warning motorists of curves.

He said also that County Engineer Charles Snyder had recommended that Council's street committee contact the county commissioners in regard to replacing the S. Market St. bridge over Beaver Creek.

The mayor reported he had secured the promise of East Ohio Gas Co. officials to repair the alley between Washington and Maple Sts. where ditches filled by the company following installation of lines have settled below the surface of the alley.

Clerk Ray Hempstead reported on the operation of the Sadie Van Fossan Memorial Swimming Pool last season as follows:

Income—tickets, $3,020.23; general fund, $1,200; miscellaneous receipts, $18.42; 1961 balance, $50.79, for a total of $4,238.65.

Retarded children's council board members are W. E. Hiscox of Lisbon, chairman, John Billiter of Salem, Hubert Lawrence of Columbiana, Mrs. Virginia McDaniel of East Liverpool and Mrs. Shirley Hiscox of Lisbon.

In other business the commissioners voted to reject travel allowances for county officials if such expenditures must come from the general fund.

They approved the travel allowance for Mrs. Betty Hendricks to attend the tuberculosis clinic and planning conference on tuberculosis at Columbus Jan. 30-Feb. 2. The funds will come out of the tuberculosis levy which voters approved four years ago.

The commissioners also approved the county highway payroll.

Hamilton Taft Holds 1st Place In 'AA' Ratings

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Taft in Class AA, and Ayersville's defending Class A champions, held their leads today in the weekly Associated Press poll of high school basketball teams.

Taft, a 13-point leader over Cleveland East Tech last week on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis by the state's sports editors, upped its edge to 54 today. Ayersville, given 258 points last week, jumped to 293 this time. Fostoria St. Wendelin held second with 172 — an enormous leap from last week's

Middletown, Sandusky and Toledo Macomber were beaten in last week's round and fell from the elite list. Newcomers Findlay, Canton Lincoln and Akron Central took over the last three spots.

From here and there:

Middletown is in a rut, all its three losses being to neighboring Hamilton teams. Top-ranked Taft topped the Middies twice, and last week Hamilton Garfield upset Paul Walker's boys 80-66 after losing 96-59 to the Middies in the first round.

Dischinger Held To Nine Points

Buckeyes Win Over Purdue Five 91-65

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer
The shooting and rebounding skills of Ohio State's Jerry Lucas have been taken for granted but there has been a tendency to underestimate his defensive ability.

The Buckeyes' 6-foot-8 tower of talent displayed his guarding prowess Monday night by holding Terry Dischinger of Purdue, the Big Ten's top scorer for two seasons, to nine points in a duel of All-Americans.

Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, easily disposed of the Boilermakers 91-65 for its 14th straight victory this season. The Buckeyes' triumph also was their 29th in a row at home. Their last setback in Columbus was inflicted by Purdue in 1959.

Lucas completely dominated the 6-foot-7 Dischinger, who had held the upper hand in their two previous meetings. Lucas tallied 32 points and snared 25 rebounds. Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, played with an injured finger on his shooting hand.

Action was light on the basketball front Monday night with most of the schools busy with examinations. In other games involving major teams, Maryland edged Miami (Fla.) 71-68, Michigan State whipped Minnesota 84-79, Stanford turned back Washington State 67-51 and East Tennessee State downed Murray (Ky.) 91-72.

Dischinger's nine points tied his career low. He also missed his first free throw attempt to snap his string of 29.

Maryland squandered a 17-point lead but rallied in the closing minutes to carry the verdict over Miami on the losers' floor. With three minutes to play and Maryland trailing, Scott Ferguson came off the bench and scored two baskets to give the Terps a 66-64 advantage.

Michigan State withstood a second-half surge by Minnesota in posting a home floor victory and second Big Ten success in six outings.

Only one other game was on the Ohio cage card Monday night. In that one, Youngstown came from behind to defeat Baldwin-Wallace 61-52.

The score was tied 44-44 with eight minutes left when Youngstown freshman Ron Allen tipped in a basket and the Penguins led the rest of the way.

The victory was Youngstown's 9th in 14 games. B-W is 6-8 for the season.

Nips Campbell In 'Sudden Death'

Doug Ford Victor In Crosby Tourney

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Veteran Doug Ford, 39, checked the rush of golf's oncharging youth brigade as he captured the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament title in a sudden death play-off after whipping miserable cold weather en route to his crown.

The former Masters and PGA champion from Vernon Hills, N.Y., went 71 holes before he finally caught collegiate champion Joe Campbell Monday in the snow-delayed finals.

They finished the 72 holes all even at 286 and went on to the first extra hole. If Campbell had won, it would have continued the youth dominance for 1962 that started when Phil Rodgers won the Los Angeles Open and Tommy Jacobs followed with a triumph at San Diego.

Neither Ford nor Campbell hit the green on the 385-yard, par-four hole. The ex-Purdue athlete from Pendleton, Ind., who had led from the opening day, was in the fringe at the front edge of the green. He tried a putter and left his ball six feet from the cup.

Ford's second shot hit a grassy embankment, bounced off a woman spectator's leg and into a trap. He wedged out of the trap within five feet of the hole. Campbell missed his putt, and Doug calmly tapped a perfection downhill stroke with a four-inch break. When it dropped, Ford had $5,300.

"I was doing so poorly that I didn't think it paid me to come out here," Ford said. "I didn't make the cut in Los Angeles and didn't make a dime in San Diego."

In addition to his first prize as low pro, Ford collected $1,000 for a fourth-place finish with partner Dudley Wyson of McKinney, Tex., in the pro-amateur. It was the first Crosby for Wyson, who went to the finals in the 1961 National Amateur before losing to Jack Nicklaus over the same Pebble Beach course.

Nicklaus, now a pro, won money for his third straight tourney, collecting $450 for a 76-296.

Left-handed Albie Pearson, the 5-foot-5 outfielder for the Los Angeles Angels, helped his partner Bob McCallister of Yorba Linda, Calif., to a $3,000 check as winners in the pro-amateur category. The baseball player, with a 10-stroke handicap, aided 45 strokes in the winning 255 score.

Rodgers finished third here with a 228, two strokes off the pace. Both he and Ford carded two-over par 74s. Campbell had a 76 and, after the playoff, a check for $3,400.

Canton Lincoln has won 10 straight after an opening 59-57 loss to Dayton Roosevelt and is now ninth in the rankings. Urbana ran its string to 12 by beating Delaware 53-41 and then surprising everyone with a 68-42 triumph over Springfield South's two-time state champs.

Seven Mile, Dixie, Butler and Portsmouth East suffered their first defeats last week. For the Portsmouth team it was the first regular season loss in 27 games over a three-season span.

All-Ohio Don Spires of unbeaten Stanton Local in Jefferson County, who sells peanuts and orange drinks at the Pittsburgh Pirate home games during the summer, broke the school record with a 41-point spree in the 92-46 win over Newell, W. VA. He's averaging 25 for the campaign.

Dover St. Joe Rolling
Dover St. Joe, which won its first 16 games last season, has 13 in a row for the current campaign, with 5-foot-8 Tom Young leading the way with a 23.2 average.

The toast of Steubenville is David (Smokey) Brown. The 6-foot Big Red junior stole the ball and drove for the winning basket in the final second to beat arch rival Martins Ferry 60-58 Friday night.

Some of last week's top point getters were Berke Reichenbach, Euclid, 43; Charley Howse, Cleveland Glenville, 37, and teammate George Phillips, 34; Ron Fugo, Lakewood, 32; Dennis Papp, Fairview, 32; Boyd Purcell, South Central, 30, and Dan Schwan, Buckeye Central, 31, with 13 of 14 free throws.

Jensen, 35, compiled a .279 lifetime batting average in 11 years in the majors, with 199 home runs and 929 RBI. In 1954 and 1955 and from 1957 to 1959 Jensen drove in more than 100 runs and formed a potent 1-2 punch for the Red Sox with Ted Williams.

Jensen, who came to the Red Sox from Washington in 1953 after beginning his career with the New York Yankees, reached the peak of his career in 1958 when he was selected the league's MVP after hitting .286 and rapping 35 home runs, with 122 runs driven in.

Antonielli never made it big with the Braves but blossomed into one of the majors' top winners when he was traded to the then New York Giants after the 1953 season. He had his best year in 1954 with a 21-7 record as the Giants won the National League pennant.

Anty also won 20 in 1956 when he was 20-13 in New York and won 19 in 1959 when the Giants had moved to San Francisco. He was traded to Cleveland after the 1960 season, was released by the Indians and picked up by the Braves, who sold him to the Mets.

OSU Gets All 1st Place Votes

Poll Rates Buckeyes Nation's Best Again

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten Ohio State unanimously maintained its lofty position as collegiate basketball's No. 1 major team today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The mighty Buckeyes (13-0) received all 42 first-place votes in the balloting of the special panel of sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast. Ohio State collected 420 points on the basis of 10 for the first place, 9 for second, etc. The voting is based on games through last Saturday.

Jerry Lucas and Co. played just one game last week, defeating Minnesota 90-76 Saturday night.

There was very little shuffling in the rest of the top 10.

Kentucky (13-1) remained second with 366 points, Cincinnati (13-2) continued third with 333 points and Kansas State (13-2) stayed in fourth with 288 points.

Kentucky beat Tennessee 95-82 in its lone outing. Cincinnati posted victories over Dayton, 80-61, and Duquesne, 62-54, while Kansas State turned back Missouri 69-66.

Southern California (12-3) advanced from sixth to fifth even though the Trojans were idle. Duquesne (13-2) dropped a notch from fifth to sixth after its loss to Cincinnati. The Dukes did beat Toledo 80-57 and St. Vincent (Pa.) 85-33.

The top 10 teams with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (42)	520
2. Kentucky	366
3. Cincinnati	333
4. Kansas State	288
5. Southern California	196
6. Duquesne	189
7. Duke	153
8. Bowling Green	108
9. Bradley	86
10. Mississippi State	53

Baseball's Jensen, Antonelli Retiring

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Jackie Jensen, Boston's RBI rapper and American League Most Valuable Player in 1958, and Johnny Antonelli, one of baseball's first bonus babies, have announced their retirements after major league careers spanning more than a decade.

Jensen's second and apparently final retirement was announced Monday by the Red Sox in Boston, where Vice President Dick O'Connell said, "We knew about this in December but were afraid to announce it then. We were afraid Jensen might change his mind and make liars out of us."

Antonelli, 31, recently acquired by the New York Mets, said at his home in Rochester, N.Y., "I've been thinking of this for a long time and I've made up my mind. The Mets asked me if I would reconsider if they offered me a better contract than the one sent me, but I told them nothing would change my mind."

"I'm tired of traveling," said the pitcher who was paid $52,000 by the then Boston Braves in 1948 when he was only 18, "and I want to be home with my family." Antonelli's wife, Rosemarie, is expecting their fourth child in a few weeks.

Jensen returned to the Red Sox last season and hit .263 with 13 home runs and 66 runs batted in after sitting out the 1960 season.

Jensen, 35, compiled a .279 lifetime batting average in 11 years in the majors, with 199 home runs and 929 RBI. In 1954 and 1955 and from 1957 to 1959 Jensen drove in more than 100 runs and formed a potent 1-2 punch for the Red Sox with Ted Williams.

Antonelli never made it big with the Braves but blossomed into one of the majors' top winners when he was traded to the then New York Giants after the 1953 season. He had his best year in 1954 with a 21-7 record as the Giants won the National League pennant.

Anty also won 20 in 1956 when he was 20-13 in New York and won 19 in 1959 when the Giants had moved to San Francisco. He was traded to Cleveland after the 1960 season, was released by the Indians and picked up by the Braves, who sold him to the Mets.

The group's next function will be a Basketball Dance at the club Saturday evening. Plans are also being made for the Inaugural Dinner Dance April 28, at which all new officers will be officially installed.

Maris Selected As Pro Athlete of Year

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A faint hope of a year ago became a solid reality today for home run king Roger Maris as he left here with the $10,000 S. Rae Hickok prize.

Selected as the pro athlete of 1961 by a huge margin, the crew-cut Yankee slugger received the diamond-studded gold buckled belt that goes with the honor at the annual Rochester Press and Radio Clubs charity dinner Monday night.

A year ago, the suddenly arrived Yankee star saw golf champion Arnold Palmer receive the trophy.

"I had a good look at it and thought I'd sure like to win it," said Maris. "But I thought then I'd only have a faint hope of ever winning it myself."

Little did he realize the sensation he was going to create for most of the 1961 season with his record-busting 61 homers.

Old Dutch Continues Undeclared

The Old Dutch Basketball team of the Salem Class A Basketball League stayed undefeated in nine games and continued its hold on first place in the loop with an easy 88-49 win over Damascus Monday night on the Memorial Building hardwood.

In other action last night, First National Bank held down its third place position with a 64-57 victory over Westfield, and Berlin upended Kaiser 61-56 in a game between the also-rans in the race.

League-leading scorer Ed Daugherty paced the Old Dutch with 25 points, while three teammates also hit in double figures. Ron Wyss garnered 12, Jerry Hendricks 11 and John Sturgeon 10.

Ralph Zurbrugg featured for Damascus with 15 markers, while teammates Jeff Wilson got 11 and Lynn Barnett 10.

Old Dutch was never headed in the fray as it jumped out front 17-11 after one period and then rolled on to 40-18 at halftime and 61-34 after three quarters.

A hot night by Burt Patterson with 31 points was too much for Westfield as First National advanced its season mark to 7-2. Also high for the winners were Chuck Greiner with 14 and Bob Stall-smith with 11.

Ed Votaw contributed 21 markers in the losing cause, with teammates Ken McLeome getting 14 and Dave Bauman 13.

First National led all the way by quarter counts of 21-14, 34-22 and 48-36.

The Berlin-Kaiser tilt was the closest contest of the evening, although Berlin led after each quarter by scores of 15-14, 30-26 and 46-42.

Jim Smith meshed 16, Denver Catrell 15 and Daris Gatrell 13 for the winners, while Paul Frank paced Kaiser with 19, and Dick Toed and Walt Rutzy each had 13.

Three teams will see action Thursday night, with Westfield (3-6) going against Bricker & Bricker (7-1) at 8 p.m., Kaiser (1-8) meeting Southeast Plaza (3-6) at 9 p.m., and Salem Tech (1-8) tangling with Berlin (2-7) at 10 p.m.

'Grandpa Runs a Hot Car Ring'

'Sick' English Lessons Start Letter-to-the-Editor Battle

"My name is Irving. I have a dog. His name is Schlep. I keep Schlep to bite the postman."
"Sometimes I go to grandpa's farm. He runs a hot car ring. Sometimes Grandpa lets me put phony license plates on the hot cars."
And so on, for 31 sentences, adapted from a satire on first-grade readers originally published in a humor magazine.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Eastern Nigeria must be the world's worst place to get a toothache. It has only five dentists among its nine million people.

Sounds reasonable: The subway in Athens, Greece, has special cars for smokers, and now a group is demanding a special car be added for Greeks who insist on munching garlic.

Royal high-hat: One of the Russian czars once decreed no one in his domain could wear a beret.

Frigid consolation: No matter how much lower the mercury falls than 49 below zero, you don't feel any colder. That is the point at which your skin nerves stop distinguishing difference in temperature.

Tired of being crowded? Then go to Alaska. It has only one person to every 2 1/2 square miles, compared with the U.S. national average of 40.4 per square mile.

Our quotable notables: "A woman will sometimes confess her sins, but I never knew one to confess her faults"—Josh Billings.

But you didn't know this: The cherry, peach, strawberry, apple, blackberry, apricot, plum, raspberry and pear all are members of the rose family.

Speaking of large families, on the human level they often produce geniuses: George Washington was one of 11 children; Alfred Tennyson one of 12; Ben Franklin one of 17, and Johann Sebastian Bach one of 20.

4-H Club News
Dungannon Chatterboxes
Mary Walker was elected president, when five members of the Dungannon Chatterboxes met recently at the home of Miss Walker in Dungannon.

Other officers elected were: Linda Graber, vice president; Barbara Anderson, secretary; and Debby McDuff, treasurer.

PROGAM FOR ROTARY
Gerald W. Wuchter, plant engineer for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in Youngstown, will give an illustrated program, "Something New Under the Sun," when he speaks to Salem Rotary Club members Tuesday noon in the Memorial Building. Irv Hine is program chairman.

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay—Latin America's two powerful nations joined today in a common front proposing spheric coexistence with the United States while condemning Prime Minister Fidel Castro for embracing communism.

The agreement between Argentina and Brazil, who have rival blocs at the inter-American foreign ministers conference in the early morning, in advance of the conference first full-dress public debate on the Cuban problem.

The door would be left open for Cuba to return to the hemisphere fold should Castro change ways or should an anti-communist government emerge in Cuba.

Isolation from the OAS is a far milder than the diplomatic and economic sanctions imposed by the Kennedy administration.

House Okays Increase In Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has tentatively approved a bill raising postage a penny per letter and increasing "junk mail" rates. Final action is expected today.

The House added $79.2 million to a rate increase bill worked out by the Kennedy administration and House Democratic leaders, producing a measure that would bring in $700 million if accepted by the Senate. There is some doubt at that score, however.

The bill raises first class and air mail rates by a penny, to 5 and 8 cents, for a total increase in those categories of $455 million. It also calls for $53 million more in the rates paid by newspapers and magazines, $171 million more in third-class rates—those used mostly by direct mail advertisers—and about $20 million more in miscellaneous increases.
